XXV 87X

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is organized into several columns and includes various annotations and markings.

At the top right, there is a small diagram or sketch of a landscape or architectural feature, possibly a fortification or a building, with labels in the script.

Below the main text, there are several lines of smaller text, possibly a list or a summary, and a small table or ledger with columns and rows of data.

The text is written in a fluid, cursive hand, characteristic of historical documents from the region. The ink is dark, and the paper shows signs of age and wear.
